

Translating the Migratory World into Poetry

A Reading by Dong Li

Humboldt Foundation Fellow, Institute for American Studies, Leipzig University

Oct. 19th, Wed., 6 p.m.

Konfuzius-Institut Leipzig

Li's work is concerned with contemporary American, Chinese, and German voices exploring the relationship between language, culture, and politics. Li will present his experience from extensive travels, which becomes a map of his poetry that moves from one language to another and ultimately amounts to a sensitive anthropology of our migratory world.